

DETERMINATION

Sufficient reasons for failing to vote in elections

Electoral Act 2002, section 9(3)

Determination 011/2026

Keywords

Apparent failure to vote notice, compulsory voting, enforcement, excuse, failure to vote, infringement, notice, sufficient reasons for not voting

Preamble

It is compulsory for enrolled voters to vote in Victorian State elections held under the Electoral Act 2002 (Vic) (Electoral Act) and local government elections held under the Local Government Act 2020 (Vic) (Local Government Act) and City of Melbourne Act 2001 (Vic) (City of Melbourne Act). The law also provides for the Victorian Electoral Commission (VEC) to enforce these compulsory voting requirements, including issuing infringement notices.

The VEC recognises that while voting is important and compulsory, there will be instances where voters are unable to cast their vote. The VEC is providing this determination, in the interest of good regulatory practice, to provide transparency to these voters, with the aim of achieving consistency of decision-making across all elections administered by the VEC.

Elections held under the Electoral Act

Elections held under the Electoral Act include general elections, by-elections, supplementary elections and re-elections for the Parliament of Victoria, and referendums.

For each election held under the Electoral Act, the VEC must—in accordance with section 162 of the Electoral Act—prepare a list of electors who were entitled to vote at the election but did not vote (list of non-voters).

Section 163 of the Electoral Act requires the VEC to send an Apparent Failure to Vote Notice (AFTVN) to all electors on the list of non-voters within 6 months after an election except when the VEC is satisfied that an elector:

- has died
- was absent from Victoria on election day
- was ineligible to vote at the election

- was issued a ballot paper for the purpose of voting
- was enrolled as a person with no fixed address (itinerant elector), Antarctic elector or overseas elector
- applied for a postal vote, but the application was received late or was rejected
- had a valid and sufficient excuse for not voting.

Elections held under the Local Government Act

Elections held under the Local Government Act include general elections and by-elections for municipal councils in Victoria. References to elections held under the Local Government Act in this determination include Melbourne City Council elections except where specified.

For each election held under the Local Government Act, the VEC must—in accordance with regulation 85 of the Local Government (Electoral) Regulations 2020 (Vic) (Local Government Regulations)—prepare a list of persons who were entitled to vote at the election but did not vote. This is the list of non-voters for the purposes of elections held under the Local Government Act.

Regulation 86 of the Local Government Regulations requires the VEC to send an AFTVN to all persons on the list of non-voters within 6 months starting on the day immediately after election day except when the VEC is satisfied that a voter:

- was ill, disabled or infirm and for that reason was unable to vote at the election or could have voted only with difficulty
- was absent from Victoria—
  - for 15 days immediately before the last day of voting; or
  - if the last day of voting is altered, from the last day postal votes are issued under regulation 49(1) of the Local Government Regulations until the last day of voting
- returned a declaration envelope within 7 days immediately after the last day for the receipt of declaration envelopes in respect of the election under regulation 57(3)(d) of the Local Government Regulations
- returned a declaration envelope that was previously issued to the voter which was disallowed under regulation 52(3) of the Local Government Regulations
- made a request to have the postal ballot envelope redirected under regulation 54 but did not receive a postal ballot envelope
- was entitled to receive replacement voting material under regulation 56 of the Local Government Regulations but did not receive the replacement voting material
- was a person experiencing homelessness and for that reason was unable to vote at the election or could have voted only with difficulty
- was serving a sentence of imprisonment
- was in lawful custody or detention
- had a sufficient excuse for not voting.

Melbourne City Council elections

A sufficient excuse for not voting at a Melbourne City Council election differs from all other local government elections and are described in regulation 95 of the Local Government Regulations. These are when a voter:

- was ill, disabled or infirm and for that reason was unable to vote at the election or could have voted only with difficulty
- was absent from Victoria—
  - for 15 days immediately before the last day of voting; or
  - if the last day of voting is altered under regulation 60 of the Local Government Regulations, from the last day postal votes are issued under regulation 49(1) of the Local Government Regulations until the last day of voting
- returned a declaration envelope within 7 days immediately after the last day of voting
- returned a declaration envelope that was disallowed under regulation 52(3) of the Local Government Regulations
- made a request to have the postal ballot envelope redirected under regulation 54 of the Local Government Regulations but did not receive a postal ballot envelope
- was entitled to receive replacement voting material under regulation 56 of the Local Government Regulations but did not receive the replacement voting material
- was enrolled under section 9A(3) or (5), 9B, 9C, or 9D of the City of Melbourne Act and the voter's postal address listed on the voters' roll is an address not located in Australia
- had sufficient excuse for not voting.

In addition, a corporation is not guilty of failing to vote if it did not receive a notice under section 9D(6) of the City of Melbourne Act in respect of the enrolment of the representative before the date of the election.

Power to issue an infringement notice

Section 167 of the Electoral Act, section 267 of the Local Government Act and section 19 of the City of Melbourne Act allow for an infringement notice to be issued where an authorised officer of the VEC is satisfied a person has committed an offence. An infringement notice is issued as an infringement offence and is governed by the Infringements Act 2006 (Vic).

Audience

The main audiences for this determination include:

- all voters, including any person issued an AFTVN
- VEC staff
- authorised officers.

Determination

I, Sven Bluemmel, Electoral Commissioner for the State of Victoria, make the following determination in accordance with section 9(3) of the Electoral Act.

1. Reasons at the pre-enforcement stage

1.1. Reasons listed in Table 1 will be ‘sufficient excuses’ and applied by the VEC when preparing a list of non-voters for elections held under the Electoral Act, Local Government Act and City of Melbourne Act. If the VEC believes that a sufficient excuse applies, the person will be removed from the list of non-voters.

Reason	Notes
The person has died	A deceased person will not be subjected to enforcement.
The person was ill, disabled or infirm and for that reason was unable to vote at the election or could have voted only with difficulty	Examples include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• unwell during the voting period</li> <li>• unwell on the day of the election</li> <li>• experiencing a medical issue</li> <li>• undergoing medical treatment</li> <li>• cognitive impairment</li> <li>• mental illness or disorder</li> <li>• serious addiction to drugs or alcohol.</li> </ul>
The person was absent from Victoria during the voting period for an election	For State elections, the person was absent from Victoria on election day for the relevant election.  For local government elections, the person was absent from Victoria for the duration of the postal voting period.
The person for religious reasons was unable to vote	The person’s genuinely held religious or faith-based beliefs is the reason that the person did not vote.
The person was, at the time of the election, of or over the age of 70 years	A person who is 70 years of age or older on the election day for the relevant election.
The elector could not vote due to the effects of a declared emergency in Victoria during the election period	An elector who was unable to travel to a voting centre to vote because of a declared emergency to which a determination under regulation 52 of the Electoral Regulations 2022 (Vic) (State Election Regulations) relates.
The person had a sufficient excuse for not voting	The person was unable to vote at the election, or could have voted only with difficulty, for one of the following (or other) reasons: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• caring responsibilities</li> <li>• an unexpected event</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• homelessness or lacking secure accommodation</li> <li>• bereavement</li> <li>• incarceration or otherwise in lawful custody or detention</li> <li>• family violence.</li> </ul>

1.2. The table of reasons in 1.1 of this determination is not exhaustive. The prosecution officer retains discretion to determine if a reason known to them at the time of processing the non-voter list is a sufficient excuse for failing to vote.

2. Reasons at the AFTVN stage

2.1. Reasons listed in Table 2 will be 'sufficient excuses' and accepted by the VEC in response to an AFTVN issued for elections held under the Electoral Act, Local Government Act and City of Melbourne Act.

Table 2: Reasons accepted at the AFTVN stage

Reason	Notes
The person has died	A deceased person will not be subjected to enforcement.
The person was ill, disabled or infirm and for that reason was unable to vote at the election or could have voted only with difficulty	Examples include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• unwell during the voting period</li> <li>• unwell on the day of the election</li> <li>• experiencing a medical issue</li> <li>• undergoing medical treatment</li> <li>• cognitive impairment</li> <li>• mental illness or disorder</li> <li>• serious addiction to drugs or alcohol.</li> </ul>
The person was absent from Victoria during the voting period for an election	For State elections, the person was absent from Victoria on election day for the relevant election.  For local government elections, the person was absent from Victoria for the duration of the postal voting period.
The person for religious reasons was unable to vote	The person's genuinely held religious or faith-based beliefs is the reason that the person did not vote.
The person was, at the time of the election, of or over the age of 70 years	A person who is 70 years of age or older may receive an AFTVN if an incorrect date of birth is recorded on their enrolment for the election. A person can provide evidence of their date of birth, which is used to update their enrolment for State and local government elections.
The elector could not vote due to the effects of a declared emergency in Victoria during the election period	An elector who was unable to travel to a voting centre to vote because of a declared emergency to which a determination under regulation 52 of the State Election Regulations relates.

The person had a sufficient excuse for not voting	The person was unable to vote at the election, or could have voted only with difficulty, for one of the following (or other) reasons: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• caring responsibilities</li> <li>• an unexpected event</li> <li>• homelessness or lacking secure accommodation</li> <li>• bereavement</li> <li>• incarceration or otherwise in lawful custody or detention</li> <li>• family violence.</li> </ul>
--	---

2.2. The table of reasons in 2.1 of this determination is not exhaustive. The prosecution officer retains discretion to determine if a reason given to them in response to an AFTVN is a sufficient excuse for failing to vote.

3. Evidence which may be provided in support of a reason at the AFTVN stage

3.1. A person is strongly encouraged to provide evidence in support of their reason for not voting at an election. Table 3 lists the types of evidence which will be considered by the VEC in response to an AFTVN. This list is not exhaustive and depends on an elector’s individual circumstances.
